READING: “The best of the 60’s”

The Beatles and The Rolling Stones were the two most famous bands that came out of the sixties. The Beatles have disappeared now. They gave their last real concert in 1966. But the Rolling Stones are still playing music. In fact, they have played rock ‘n’ roll music for six decades now and a lot of people think they’re the greatest rock ‘n’ roll band in the world. When the Beatles and the Stones were playing music in the sixties, people were fans of one band more than the other. The Beatles had matching clothes and haircuts. Their beautiful songs were about all kinds of topics. The Stones weren’t as tidy and polite as the Beatles. They were tougher and more rebellious and they only played real rock and blues. Which band was better? People are still arguing today about that. More Beatles records are bought than Stones records. But the Stones’ style was copied by lots of later rock bands like AC/DC and Guns N’ Roses. Perhaps you have to ask yourself this question: If you could go back in time to the sixties, which band would you prefer to see live?
