Word families are groups of words with a common root. You can add suffixes or prefixes to make new words. For example, we often add -er or -or to a verb to make the noun for a person who does something.

Verb	Noun (artist)	Noun (type of art)
paint	painter	1 painting
2 sculpt	sculptor	sculpture
3 design	designer	design
throw a pot	potter	4 pottery
take a photo	5 photographer	photography
make a 6 print	printmaker	printmaking
