

ENGLISH

4th

SECONDARY

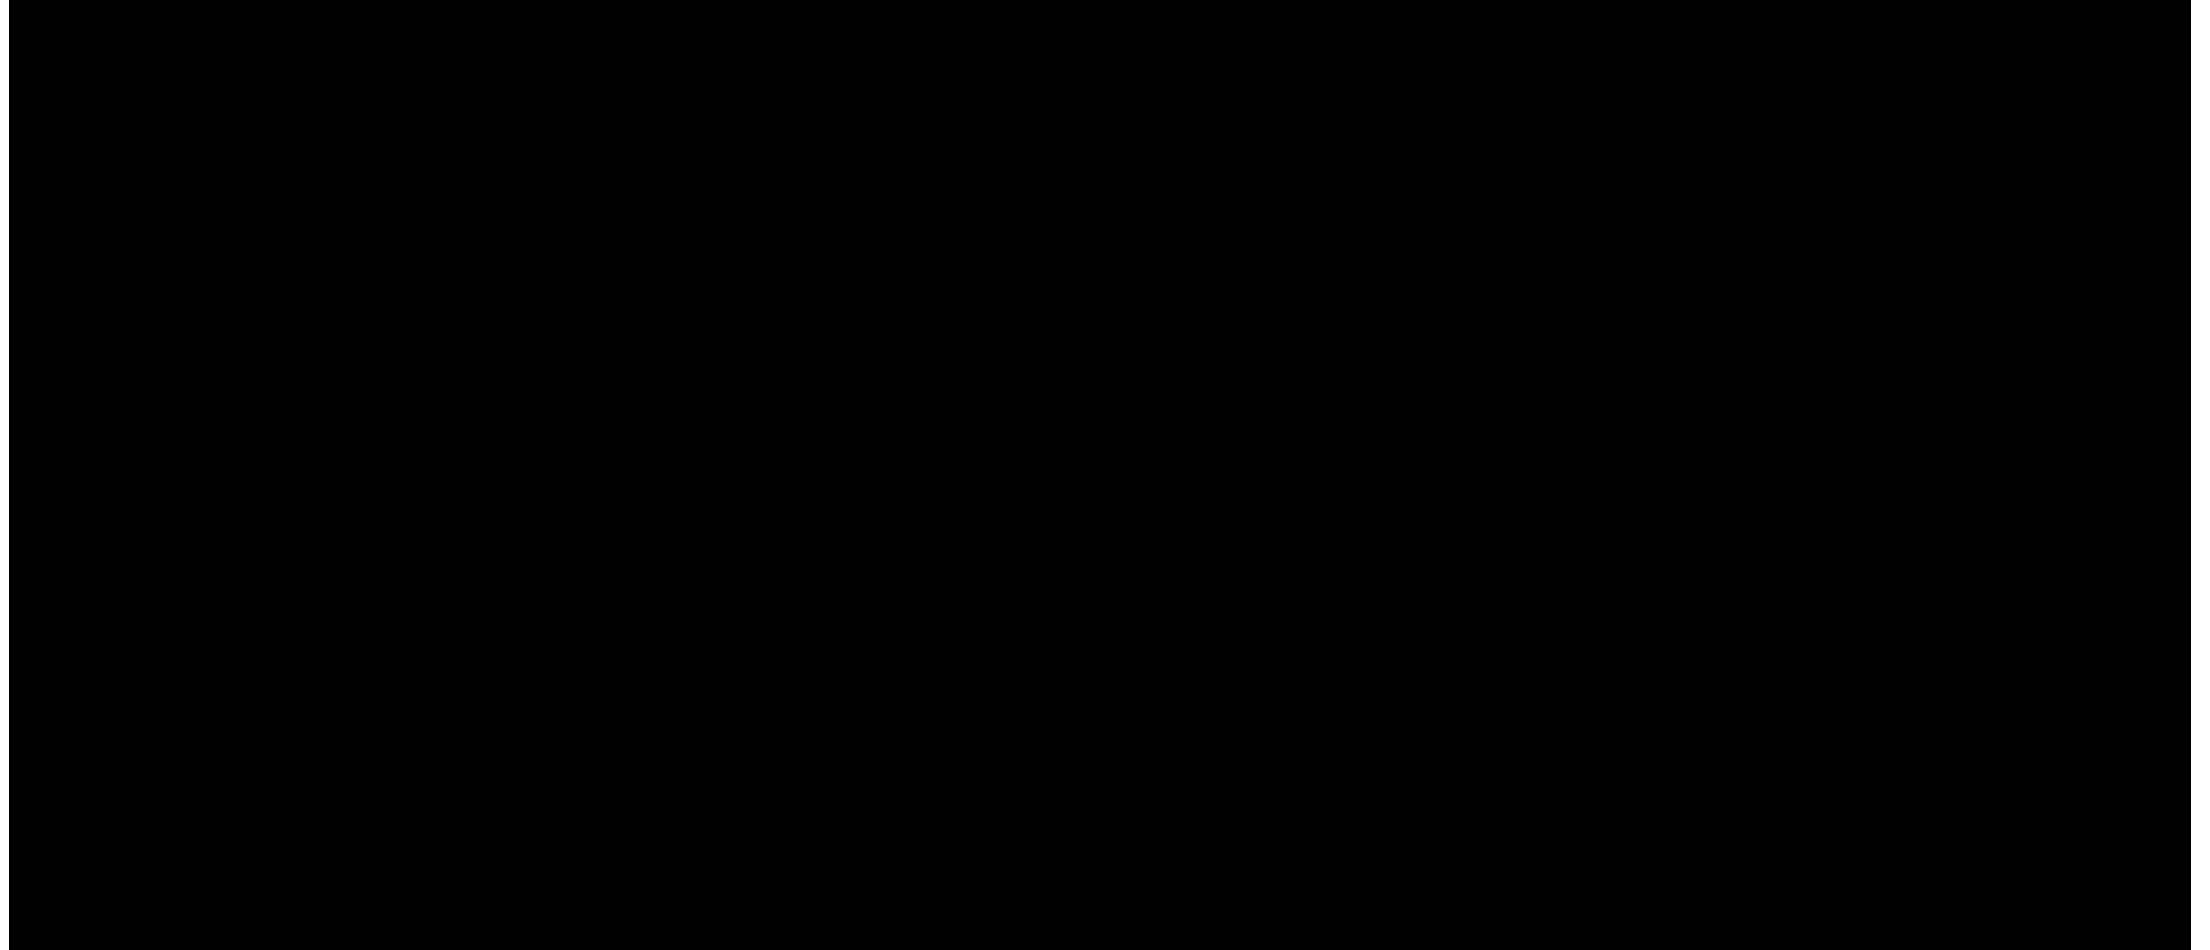

SESSION A

REVIEW

CHAPTERS 19 – 20 - 21

 SACO OLIVEROS

1

LOOK AT THE PICTURES AND WRITE A WORD FROM THE BOX

A

B

C

D

E

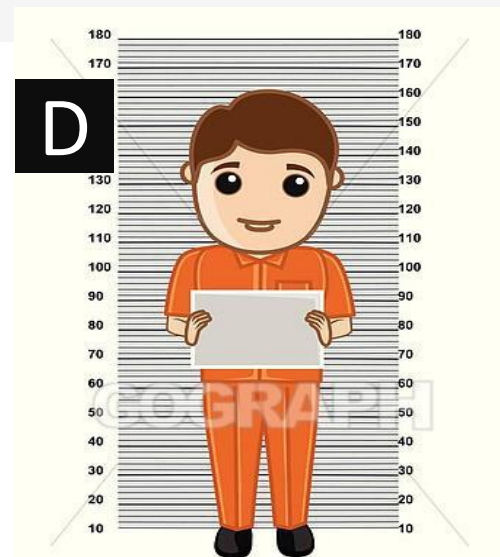

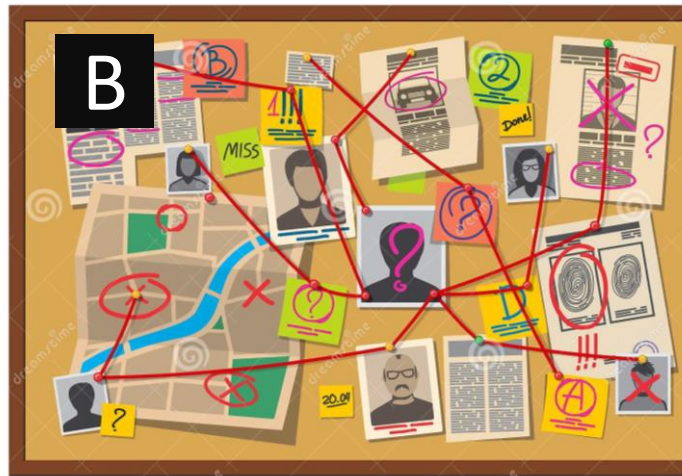

SUSPECT SOMEONE

DO COMMUNITY SERVICE

ARREST A SUSPECT

COMMIT A CRIME

GO ON TRIAL

A GO TO PRISON

B SOLVE A CRIME

C CATCH A THIEF

D BE GUILTY

E BE INNOCENT

F LOOK FOR CLUES

1. The police arrested her for drinking and driving.

ARRESTED

2. We have no reason to suspect Pedro of murdering.

PAY

3. After the car accident, he has to pay a fine.

COMMIT

4. He was sent to prison for a crime he didn't commit.

SUSPECT

5. The jury decided Ernesto is guilty of a crime.

LOOKS FOR

6. The police officer looks for clues after the accident!

BE GUILTY

MODALS OF DEDUCTION (PRESENT)

MUST

90–100% sure
it's TRUE

+ infinitive
(present meaning)

- ➔ She must be in the garden.
- ➔ Look at their house. They must be rich.

CAN'T

90–100% sure
NOT true

+ infinitive
(present meaning)

- ➔ She can't be his mother. She's too young.
- ➔ He's just left. He can't be too far.

+ be + -ing verb

to speculate about actions in progress

- ➔ They are in Iniza. They must be having a great time.
- ➔ You're always hungry. I think that you might not be eating enough protein.
- ➔ New study suggests that air pollution may be making people unhappy.

MODALS OF POSSIBILITY (PRESENT)

MAY MIGHT

30–50% sure it's (or not) true

+ infinitive
(present meaning)

→ He may/might take the next train.

→ She may/might not be home yet.

Use can't (NOT ~~mustn't~~)

✗ He's just left. He ~~mustn't~~ be too far.

✓ He's just left. He can't be too far.

Use may/might (NOT ~~can~~)

✗ He isn't here. He ~~can~~ be at home.

✓ He isn't here. He might be at home

1) You _____ be happy after going to the beach. 4) You _____ move to London by plane.

- a. can't ☒ b. must
 c. can

- ☒ a. might
 b. mayn't
 c. musn't

2) I'm not sure. The car _____ be expensive.

- ☒ a. might
 b. must
 c. can

5) This movie _____ be interesting.

- a. couldn't ☒ b. could
 c. mayn't

3) He _____ be in France. He visited the Eiffel Tower. 6) You _____ be sick! You've done nothing!

- a. can't
 b. may ☒ c. must

- a. could
 b. must ☒ c. can't

1. My sister ate all the chocolate. She must / can't be hungry!

2. Peter is not sure. He might / must read a romantic book.

3. Karina doesn't like tea! She must / can't drink coffee.

4. Mario went to Canta. He couldn't / could ride a horse.

5. They are very tired. They must / can't be sleeping.

1- Take an umbrella. It _____ rain later.

a) mightn't

b) can might

d) should

2- Juliet worked all day. She _____ be tired.

must

b) can't

c) couldn't

d) may

3- It is impossible, it _____ be a mistake!

a) should

must

c) might

d) could

4- I heard something moving. It _____ be my roommate.

a) should

b) can

c) mayn't

could

5- This tastes delicious. Your mother _____ be a great cook.

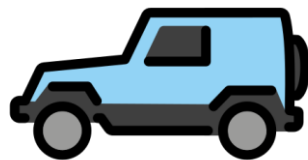

a) can't

must

c) may

d) might

1. George must be rich. He has a new car!

2. Michael and Ann can't be at the zoo. They hate animals.

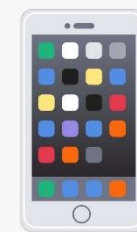

3. Karina is not sure. She might buy a new car, she needs one.

4. He always goes to the art museum. He must like those paintings.

5. Clare doesn't have a job. She can't be working!

6. Something is ringing in that purse. It might be a cell phone.

1. That must / can't be Bob. He always studies with Jannet.

2. Peter might / can't be happy about losing his job. He loved it.

3. Come and sit down. You might / must be tired after the journey.

4. The exam result will be out soon. It must / could be this week.

5. She always gets good grades. She can't / must study very hard.

-
1. He can't be our teacher. ...  e. ... He looks about twelve.
2. Whose is this coat? ...  b. ... It can't be Paul's. It is too small for him.
3. It can't be far now. ... a. ... We've been driving for hours.
4. It can't be easy for him, ...  c. ... looking after three kids on his own.
5. She is not here yet. ...  g. ... She might be stuck in traffic.
6. He is not answering. ...  f. ... He could be in class.
7. He must live near here because...  d. ... he always comes to work early.

A passenger was arrested in Bangkok airport last week when anti-trafficking officers opened his suitcases and found them full of animals. The passenger was waiting to check in when anti-trafficking officers arrested him. The officers started watching the man secretly when he first bought the endangered animals illegally. When he was arrested, the seven animals, which were baby leopards, panthers, a bear and monkeys, all about the size of puppies, were on their way to Dubai. The animals were drugged and were in flat cages so they couldn't move around so much. 'When officers opened the suitcase, the animals yawned', said Steven Galster, director of Freeland, an anti-trafficking organization based in Thailand. Authorities say the man was part of a trafficking network. They are looking for other members of the network. Thailand is a center for illegal wildlife trafficking, but criminals usually try to smuggle turtles, tortoises, snakes and lizards to China and Vietnam. It is unusual to catch traffickers with a large number of mammals. In Thailand the price on the black market for leopards and panthers is around $5,000 dollars. They are worth significantly more in Dubai.

READING: A MURDER

Hi - Is that the chief inspector? Good, good. This is Laura Donavon from the lab. Right, I have some information for you. Mr Brown did not die of natural causes. In fact, from the tests we've carried out on his body we are 75% sure he died of poisoning. Yes, I know. We examined the crystals in the glass and it was definitely poison. Now, this is really interesting. We think it was cyanide, and I know what you are thinking, but let me tell you a bit about cyanide. It can be swallowed, inhaled, or absorbed through the skin and it stops people being able to take in oxygen, causing an 'internal asphyxia'. The victim suffocates to death as he breathes in oxygen he cannot use. Yeah, not very nice, is it?. Yeah, yeah, the effects are almost immediate. Oh, and you might want to know something about this, it can be made from the stones of fruits as well as from chemicals, so something for you to think about there. Yeah, good luck with the inquiry.

1. Laura Donavon is completely sure that Mr Brown died of poisoning. FALSE
2. Mr Brown died of cyanide. FALSE
3. Cyanide stops people being able to take in oxigen. TRUE
4. Cyanide can suffocate people to death . TRUE
5. Cyanide has long-lasting effects. FALSE
6. Laura Donavon and the chief inspector are talking about Mr Brown's death. TRUE

Thank You
For Your Attention

